

Pre-Reception Music

Music plays an important role throughout the entire wedding day, right from the start to the end of the day, it helps create perfect ambience.

Why not treat yourselves and your guests to some atmospheric music to welcome you to your drinks reception? This carefully selected music can take you nicely through the afternoon, starting with some relaxing classics in keeping with this special occasion. A change of pace in the form of some light jazz and swing always proves popular, and is the perfect blend to set the party mood where you and your guests will dance the night away.

Remember it's your day, your music, your choice. We're here to add that special touch.

One of the most pleasurable things that a couple can do is to select a memorable song that has sentimental value for them. This can be used in church, pre-reception, or of course as your first dance of the evening.

You might like to choose a special song that reminds you of your first date, or maybe a memory from the first time you danced together.

The songlist to the right contains many well loved classics which have proven to be very popular. Do you see any of your favourites here? Don't worry if you don't because all music is arranged to suit each individual couple and any special requests can be catered for.
